\in: the >Lefi Book- Club, News, had responsible-for" enrolling., Jid fewer' than six members; ?-,/ :. ^/ ;.i-'/ '-•.,.. .'' /,;*. .-' --:;rT^ ihe Left Book Club's; standard flocked, Rtiends> of the Soviet Union,:'Popular, Front advocates, near,and; actual ..Communists, ffl the^restles'sly progressive, who have nothing-to lose but their hopes.. jProvidingideological fare acceptable 'to, all of these, was rufceasyitask.- rSfeere-were-occasional awkward incidents, as when, m tKe^cotoe/of an-address by, Mr.; Lloyd George, it was found necessary fofcibly\to remove an:,interrupter, who persisted in shouting, i?5Slat:abQ.ut"!the: Black ind-TansJ;, and occasional awkward . foments, ^ ·a^ i:when - the I 'German-Soviet Pact was announced. :c Sadly then, forward-looking bookseller, bearded, sandalled, surveyed his stock, gloomily envisaging possessing for b?er>roahy copies .of:Litviiiov^s.speeches,on the indivisibility of peace, many copies; o£ workslconunemling Stahn's implacable datemjination. td oppose .Nazi .designs.; Such difficulties, not-witfetapjKiig^Qii the.-whole Mrl-Gollancz's flock held together, and •jfoeEcrsaitKfied mth,the books:they added monthly to their Jibtaies, 5Jio,w .of the: yellow volumes they received soon coming tejsignifyJ^jffuly; progressive-household.

,b!Qther, BJbak Clttbs^.were^less energetically led, and produced and royalties. The causes they

. Mr. Ivor Brown might pro-

the Life Liberal, Mr. Arthur Bryant

t .Conservatives had other aims than to conserve,

Hut* ^airiifull hearts were Left for evermore.

ographies, autobiographies, novels, all varieties r which could be enclosed between cloth boards plausibly .called a book, found their way to the

, of literary editors, by them to be h instructions to produce their two ^ short notice, or, least of all it; some not achieving even e unnoticed, never chosen, in due course vanishing, ¡inonerkliew where, presumably to be